KONFIG[®] 8.2.2 Released

FULL INTEGRATION WITH ORACLE[®] 11g, SUPPORT FOR DOCX AND XSLX, AND OTHER NEW FEATURES MAKE KONFIG 8.2.2 ANOTHER "MUST-HAVE" FOR COMPANIES NEEDING TO BOOST PRODUCTIVITY, CUT COSTS, FACILITATE REGULATORY COMPLIANCE, AND MORE EFFECTIVELY SERVE THEIR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL CUSTOMERS.

Westminster, CO—May 27, 2010—Auto-trol Technology Corporation, a leading provider of information, data and configuration management software solutions and services, today announced the availability of KONFIG Release 8.2.2. This release empowers business process managers and participants with new features and functionality. In addition, KONFIG 8.2.2 is now fully integrated with Oracle 11g RDBMS.

"Your business is unique. You do not need cookie-cutter business solutions for your critical information management processes. Auto-trol Technology has a long history of providing customers worldwide with powerful and uniquely configured information management solutions using KONFIG," said Danny Stroud, Managing Director at Auto-trol Technology. Stroud added, "The improvements introduced in this release make it even easier to apply the power of KONFIG to your unique business processes. Our customers find that KONFIG is more effective and easier to use than any other available option. Auto-trol will team with you to create solutions that will meet the exact needs of your business."

New Features and Enhancements

The following enhancements are incorporated into the new release of KONFIG 8.2.2:

- Expanded database support with the addition of Oracle 11g
- Improved search capabilities with the addition of DOCX and XSLX files
- Additional support for search and link on Long and CLOB attributes to our Importer
- Inclusion of newer versions of several supporting software applications
- Enhancements to Workflow, in response to customer requests, to support the following:
 - Independent Sub-processes with their own assignments for Users, Roles, and Distribution Lists
 - Three new methods for launching a workflow

"Since the 8.x series has been in customer hands for more than year, our customers have had time to provide valuable feedback on what enhancements they would like to see. We were then able to improve an already exceptional product by focusing our attention on customer priorities, such as improved speed and more convenient Workflow functionality," said Dennis Waehner, KONFIG Product Development Manager.
